Folk Club Members Support FolksWalk

by Lynn Jordan

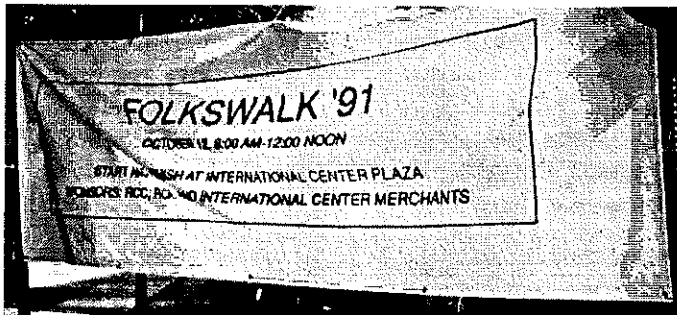

It was dark when the phone rang at 5:50 AM on Saturday, October 12 — a cancellation due to illness for the day's event by a scheduled performer. The Folk Club was scheduled to entertain participants at the Reston International Center for the Reston FolksWalk from 7:30 AM to 12:30 PM. The early bird performers were already up and transposing their music down a few keys for early morning singing.

My alarm had gone off, and the radio was playing,

Golden Eagles Drill Team, set out around 8 AM for their four mile trek. Pete Frailey was stationed along the trail to entertain the group as it tramped by.

Meanwhile, Paul Hartke, Red Leaf (John Cherry, Joe Corbo, Lea Coryell, and Joan Kennedy), Dave Ross, Susan Thomas, Forrest Ward, Gail Thompson, and J. Connor Cable continued to entertain the people milling around the International Center and returning from the walk. The event was a big success, and a good time was had by all!

but that didn't matter — I went back to sleep in a second to wait for my wake-up call from Bill Davis (Thanks, Bill!). I am decidedly not a morning person, and my friends know that I can carry on a lucid conversation before noon on any weekend and have no idea what I said or even that I had talked to anyone.)

It was still dark as I started the car and turned on my headlights for the drive to the International Center Plaza where the participants were to start their walk.

Liza Gelderloos, who flew in from Belgium only 12 hours before, was there wide awake when I arrived (it was 12 noon Belgian time). At 7:30 AM, Liza picked up her guitar and began to entertain the gathering mass of walkers. Bill arrived shortly thereafter, with an extension cord for Joe Corbo's bass, and started in at 8:00 AM after Liza's set.

The weather was gorgeous, if a bit chilly for guitar picking, when the walkers, accompanied by Herndon's

Thank's to all of the performers for doing a great job (in less than an ideal situation —no sound system, cold weather).

Thanks also go to Bill Davis for bringing the extension cord and for his overall support, to Forrest Ward for making things run smoothly for the last hour, to Forrest (again) and Pete Frailey for doing double sets at the last minute, and to Van Garber and the Reston Community Center for organizing the event and asking us to participate.
